Contractor Disclaimers & Project Conditions

1. Property & Yard Conditions

Contractor is not responsible for damage to existing lawn, landscaping, irrigation, or underground elements due to necessary construction access, excavation, grading, or material staging. All disturbed areas will be rough graded and strawed, unless otherwise specified. Final restoration (seed, sod, landscaping) is not included unless noted.

2. Access & Equipment

Client agrees to provide reasonable access for equipment, materials, and crews. Tight access, soft ground, weather conditions, or unforeseen site limitations may result in additional charges or delays.

□

3. Stamped Concrete Disclaimer

Stamped concrete is a decorative product and will naturally include:

- * Color variation, shading differences, and mottling
- * Surface imperfections, tool marks, or minor inconsistencies
- * Hairline shrinkage cracking (normal and expected)

Contractor does not guarantee a crack-free slab. Control joints will be placed at Contractor's discretion to help manage cracking.
Sealer appearance may vary and may require future maintenance/reapplication, which is not included.

□

4. Concrete Pour & Weather Conditions

Concrete placement is subject to weather conditions. Contractor reserves the right to reschedule pours due to rain, temperature, or subgrade issues.
Once poured, no changes can be made to layout, color, or finish.

5. Sitting Wall & Cap Disclaimer

Sitting wall will be constructed to industry standards; however:

- * Minor movement, settling, or shifting may occur over time
- * Caps may have slight unevenness, overhang variation, or natural imperfections
- * If "budget" or "non-premium" caps are selected, visible inconsistencies are to be expected

Contractor is not responsible for long-term movement due to soil conditions, drainage issues, or freeze/thaw cycles unless a full engineered system is specified.

6. Drainage & Water Management

Unless specifically included, Contractor does not guarantee correction of existing drainage issues.
Water runoff, pooling, or hydrostatic pressure may affect concrete, walls, or surrounding areas.

□

7. Low-Voltage Lighting Disclaimer

Low-voltage lighting systems:

- * May vary in brightness due to distance, voltage drop, or transformer load
- * Require routine maintenance (bulb replacement, adjustments, cleaning)
- * Are subject to damage from weather, landscaping, pets, or other trades

Contractor is not responsible for future performance issues caused by third-party work, power supply changes, or homeowner modifications.

8. Third-Party / Customer-Supplied Work

Contractor is not responsible for the performance, quality, or damage related to work performed by third parties, including but not limited to electricians, landscapers, or other trades hired by the client.

Any coordination with third parties is not guaranteed unless specifically contracted.

□

9. Existing Conditions & Unknowns

Contractor is not responsible for:

- * Unmarked utilities
- * Buried debris, poor soil, or unapproved construction
- * Hidden structural or subsurface issues

Discovery of such conditions may require a change order.

10. Damage to Adjacent Structures

While care will be taken, Contractor is not liable for minor cracking, shifting, or cosmetic damage to adjacent structures (driveways, patios, foundations, etc.) due to vibration, settlement, or integration with new work.

11. Cleanup

Contractor will remove construction debris and perform a general cleanup.

Detailed cleaning (pressure washing entire property, window cleaning, etc.) is not included unless specified.

12. Warranty Limitations

Warranty applies to workmanship only and does not cover:

- * Normal wear and tear
- * Cracking due to ground movement or weather
- * Color fading or sealer wear
- * Damage from misuse, neglect, or third parties

□

13. Client Responsibility

Client is responsible for:

- * Keeping people, pets, and vehicles off new concrete and work areas

- * Watering concrete if instructed
- * Protecting completed work from damage after installation
