Disclaimers	$0.00	1	$0.00
Existing Structure Disclaimer
This project involves work performed on, around, and/or attached to an existing structure that was originally constructed by others. Crystal Clear Contracting is not responsible for the design, workmanship, installation methods, code compliance, or structural integrity of any previously completed work unless specifically identified in writing as part of this contract.
The contractor's scope of work is limited solely to the items outlined in this proposal.
Hidden Conditions
Existing framing, beams, posts, footings, foundations, ledger attachments, roof framing, flashing, waterproofing, and other concealed structural components cannot be fully evaluated until work is underway. Any hidden deficiencies, code violations, water damage, rot, insect damage, settlement, improper fastening, undersized framing, or other unforeseen conditions discovered during construction are not included in this proposal and will require a written change order for additional labor and materials.
Existing Structure
Contractor assumes that the existing structure is reasonably capable of supporting the proposed improvements. If existing framing or structural components are found to be inadequate, improperly installed, damaged, or not compliant with current building codes, corrective work will be quoted separately and must be approved before work continues.
Code Compliance
This proposal is not intended to bring the entire existing structure into compliance with current building codes. Any upgrades required by the building department, engineer, or inspector that relate to existing work performed by others shall be considered additional work unless specifically included in this proposal.
No Warranty on Existing Work
Contractor warrants only the new work performed under this agreement. No warranty, expressed or implied, is provided on any existing materials, framing, foundations, roofing, structural components, or work completed by previous contractors.
Demolition & Discovery
Once demolition begins, additional deficiencies may become visible that could not reasonably have been identified during the initial site inspection. Such conditions may require additional labor, materials, engineering, or redesign and will be addressed through a written change order.
Material Matching
While every effort will be made to match existing materials, colors, textures, and finishes, exact matches cannot be guaranteed due to weathering, age, discontinued products, or manufacturer variations.
Owner Responsibility
The property owner acknowledges that this proposal is based upon visible conditions at the time of inspection. Any existing structural defects, concealed damage, or deficiencies created by previous construction are the responsibility of the property owner and are outside the scope of this agreement unless specifically included by written change order.
Subtotal			$149,862.68
Total			$149,862.68
